

Bill Poole

Regional Director of Business Development

EwingCole / ECBuild

Bill is the Regional Director of Business Development for EwingCole/ECBuild - a fully integrated Engineering, Architecture and Construction firm. Bill has been a part of the biotechnology manufacturing industry for nearly 2 decades, assisting multiple companies off the bench into commercialization, when it comes to planning, designing, and building their manufacturing facilities. He's supported multiple companies in Biologics, Pharmaceutical, Medical Device, CDMO's and Cell/Gene Therapy manufacturing. Bill's been a huge champion for the design/build approach, due to the speed to market demand in these industries. He's delivered this model for some of the largest biopharma clients on a national scale such as AstraZeneca, Alcon, Pfizer, BMS and GSK.

Bill's also been on the consulting side for the Gene and Cell therapy sector, assisting clients in make vs. buy case analysis, manufacturing strategy programs, capital portfolio management, CMO-CRO selection and program management. He's also helped multiple clients in this sector design and build their facilities, enhancing focus on flexibility and optimization. He's worked with companies such as Kite Pharma, Lonza, Novartis, Amgen, Gilead and KBI.
