Partner

Ernst & Young

Eva Hevron is an assurance partner at EY with over 16 years of experience, substantially devoted to serving clients in EY's Life Sciences and Health industries. Eva currently serves clients in Dallas, Houston, and California, including biopharmaceutical companies, diagnostic companies, academic medical and research centers, hospital systems, and home health, home care, and rehabilitation companies.

Eva has worked with clients through IPOs, as well as secondary equity and debt offerings, business acquisitions, and internal control over financial reporting. She is experienced in accounting and financial reporting for both public and private companies, including topics such as complex debt and equity transactions and valuations, revenue recognition and related reserves, alternative investments, and joint ventures.

She currently leads the resource management and staffing of the Dallas audit practice, and previously led the Dallas Professional Women's Network from 2016 to 2020. Eva spent three years in the Southwest Region Quality Network, coaching teams across the Region to improve quality and efficiency, as well as supporting internal and external inspections and training partners and staff in both the US and India. Eva is a Board member and the Treasurer of Dallas Afterschool, a nonprofit that seeks to level the playing field for children of all races and economic backgrounds. She received her Bachelor of Business Administration and Master of Accountancy from the University of Oklahoma.
