

Gerry Farrell, PhD

Chief Operating Officer

Fujifilm Diosynth Biotechnologies

Gerry is responsible for the operation of the College Station, TX site. He has over 20 years' experience in contract manufacturing and has been a part of the Diosynth team for the past 14 years holding roles in project management, development and manufacturing.

Most recently was the head of Process and Analytical Development and Process Sciences groups at the RTP site. Gerry has broad experience in the tech transfer, development, and manufacturing of customer programs from clinical supply through process validation up to and including commercial manufacturing.