

Greg Salcido, MPA

CFO

Arugula Sciences

Greg Salcido is the Chief Financial Officer for Arugula Sciences, which is the parent company of Signature Biologics. He is responsible for financial leadership, including capital management strategies, financial planning, supply chain operations, accounting, audit, tax, treasury and risk management. Over 28 years of diverse financial leadership experience with companies ranging from startups to established, multi-national corporations.

He has held senior leadership positions in industries including manufacturing, software development, wholesale distribution and management consulting. He is an experienced leader that brings a hands-on approach to value creation.